

1. The first group of people who are not in the same position as the others are the ones who are not in the same position as the others.

